New Developments in Gase Against Carlton.

POLICE SEEKING EVIDENCE

Hope to Connect Alleged "Blue Beard" With Band That Operated in the West.

NEW YORK, July 22.—It became known today that Police Inspector Cross and his force of detectives are bending every energy to connect Frederick E. Carlton, the alleged "Blue Beard," who is suspected of having poisoned two of his many wives, with a band of blackmailers which have been carrying on extensive operations all over the country by means of improper Incidentally, an effort is being made to prove that Eleanor Vandeventer, the woman with whom Carlton was living at the time of his arrest, is also a member of this insidious blackmailing band.

Night of Delirium.

All night long, on her cot in the Erooklyn Hospital, the Vandeventer woman tossed in delirium. The ordeal through which she was put by the police broke her down completely. She was so much improved today, however, that her condition permitted her to be re-moved to the Raymond street jail, where Carlton is also a prisoner. The blackmailing band with which the police hope to connect Carlton and his flance is said to have only recently his fiance is said to have only recently transferred its headquarters to Brooklyn after being run out of Chicago, Chemnati, Philadelphia and Boston. It has numbered among its victims many innocent men and women, most of them, the latter blackmailed by means of photographs manipulated in the same manner as that of Miss Marie Breslin, of Brooklyn, whose head, it is alleged, was placed on an improper photograph for which Eleanor Vandeventer originally posed.
